

Bosom Buddies

Bosom Buddies

What is Bosom Buddies?

Bosom Buddies is a support group for breastfeeding mums run by local mothers who have themselves breastfed and completed a course to support new parents. The group, which meets on a regular basis, gives parents the opportunity to get together to share experiences and information.

What can it offer you and your child?

- You can receive advice and support from other local mothers who have themselves breastfed.
- You can learn how breastfeeding helps to develop your baby's immune system and reduces the risk of health problems such as ear infections or gastro-enteritis.
- The chance to meet other new mums in a relaxed and informal setting.

What are the benefits for you and your child?

- Help with overcoming any difficulties while breastfeeding.
- Medical evidence shows that your baby will be less likely to develop childhood illnesses if he/she has been breastfed for a longer period and will be stronger and healthier.
- You are more likely to continue breastfeeding with support from other mothers.
- The group gives you the chance to get together with other new parents in a relaxed environment and make friends.
- The support will help enrich the relationship between you and your baby.
